MACARTHUR WANTS NEW KOREA POLICY

2 Atom Spies Doomed To Die

FIRST U. S. CITIZENS ever ordered to pay the death penalty for espionage against their country, Julius Rosenberg, 32 and his wife, Ethel, leave New York federal court after sentencing. Draft and UMT Are Caught in Congress Snarl

Training Program And Deferment Plan All in Confusion

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—Administration leaders prepared today to yank the teeth out of their universal military training proposal in order to save a combination draft-UMT bill from rejection by the House.

The leaders also predicted the House will write into the draft bill a prohibition against blanket deferments on the basis of scholastic ability.

They still expressed confidence they could beat down a Republican drive to write into the controversial bill a restriction on use of American troops in an Atlantic pact army.

Even with the major concessions already made by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the armed services committee, opponents of UMT in any form shouted "no" to the toned down administration measure.

And they were relying on a letter from Gen. Douglas MacArthur to help them in their fight to alter the draft provisions.

They don't want UMT handled with the draft bill. Some of them don't want it considered at all, now or later. Many don't want the draft age dropped to 18 or 19.

Vinson predicted also that the House will accept an amendment by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.), a committee member, to prevent the wholesale deferment of students who make a stated grade in a nationwide aptitude test.

The Kilday amendment would let high school students until they are 20 years old and would let college students finish the academic year already started when their draft number comes up. After that, local draft boards would determine which students are to be deferred, under general regulations issued by the president.

Red Forces Pull Back Again In Center in Surprise Move

BY OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, April 6—(AP)—A surprise Chinese withdrawal on the central front last night left a "No-Man's-Land" in front of United Nations forces today north of Parallel 38.

AP Correspondent John Randolph said Chinese who had been fighting stubbornly for two days suddenly broke contact Thursday night and retreated.

Americans thrusting forward Friday reported only patrol contact.

All along a 40-mile stretch of the front, UN units forged slow gains.

The Allied advance had thrust as much as eight miles inside the Communist northland.

Elements of four divisions pressed the slow, cautious United Nations advance on the central

Use of Chinese Troops on Formosa Advocated Again

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has proved again he is one of the Truman administration's hottest potatoes.

His latest challenge of administration policy and Washington authority was burning fingers today at the White House, the State Department and the Pentagon.

MacArthur's letter to a Republican leader, Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, warmly endorsing Martin's demand that thousands of Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa under command of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek be used in action against the Chinese and Korean Communists, had potentialities in at least three fields:

1. Domestic politics.
2. International politics, including the United Nations program in the Far East.
3. Military strategy.

While MacArthur's letter promptly raised speculation about possible disciplinary action against the five-star general there was serious question whether the White House would risk a bitter fight in Congress by removing him from command or promoting him out of it.

'Material for Issue'

After reading MacArthur's letter to the House yesterday, Martin made it evident that here was the material for an issue. He said: "I think it is high time that the administration and the Pentagon came clean with the Congress and the American people."

The State Department, which has been openly unhappy on previous occasions over MacArthur's frank and free discussions of diplomats were trying to quiet the worry of Allies over Chinese reaction to a new push into north Korea. Nor could they fail to note MacArthur's comment that "here we fight Europe's war with arms, while the diplomats there still fight it with words."

The Pentagon high command winced at this new pronouncement from the Tokyo command.

It was made evident the military leaders in Washington, on purely strategic grounds, disagreed with MacArthur on two major points made in his letter:

1. That "utilization of the Chinese forces on Formosa is in conflict with neither logic nor (the) tradition of meeting force with maximum counter-force."
2. That "in Asia is where the Communist conspirators have elected to make their play for global conquest."

MacArthur has declared the Chinese Communists can be defeated by expanding the war to include Allied air attacks and Chinese Nationalist assaults on the mainland.

A dispatch from Tokyo by AP Correspondent Russell Brines recalled that MacArthur made that position clear in his March 24 statement on the Korean war. He has also said neither side can win if the combat is restricted to the Korean peninsula.

Pentagon Opposition

The Pentagon's opposition to using Chiang's Nationalist troops remains based on substantially the objections raised when MacArthur first came up with the idea last summer:

1. The troops on Formosa must be regarded as a strategic reserve, a force which may be needed critically later if Russia chooses all-out war.
2. They should be kept on Formosa to defend that island against Chinese Communist invasion attempt because Formosa is a vital outlying bastion for defense of Japan.
3. If the Nationalist troops were committed to action in the vast area of the Chinese mainland against the millions of men available to Communist China they might be cut up and become militarily valueless.
4. The supply problem is taking care of the large force of Nationalists in actual warfare would be acute, especially when pyramided on the already difficult Korean war logistics program.

The Pentagon chiefs also do not subscribe to MacArthur's belief that the Communists have picked Asia as the major arena. Secretary of Defense Marshall last week told a news conference he believed the "world" situation was more serious than last fall.

Brother of Condemned Woman Also Guilty --- Hopes for Mercy

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—Confessed atom spy David Greenglass, chief accuser of his doomed sister and brother-in-law, will hear his own fate late today.

Greenglass is liable to the same federal death penalty imposed on his kin—but he looks for mercy.

His testimony was the bulwark of the government's case against condemned Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who sentenced the couple as Russian spies, noted the "courage," "soul-searching" that lay behind Greenglass' decision to testify against his family.

Greenglass, 29-year-old former army sergeant, was to have been sentenced yesterday along with the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell.

But his sentencing was postponed until today when his counsel, former Assistant Attorney General O. John Rogge, asked for more time to prepare his plea.

Greenglass has pleaded guilty to the same indictment on which the Rosenbergs and Sobell elected to stand trial and were convicted by a jury a week ago yesterday.

His wife, Ruth, mother of two small children, joined Greenglass in testifying for the government. She has been named as a co-conspirator in the spy ring—but not as a defendant.

Greenglass, who was an army sergeant at the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic bomb project, testified that Rosenberg introduced him into atomic espionage work. He also swore that his sister engaged in the espionage.

Greenglass did not accuse Sobell, who drew a 30-year prison term yesterday. The 34-year-old radar and electronics expert was deemed less guilty than the Rosenbergs.

Mickey Cohen Is Indicted

LOS ANGELES, April 6—(AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted gambler Mickey Cohen on charges of income tax evasion.

The jury had been going into Cohen's payments in recent years since the U. S. Senate Crime Committee, headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), drew admissions from him in recent hearings that he had borrowed some $300,000 in recent years with practically no security.

Cohen said he had no comment. He recently told reporters: "I'm clean (legal). But they'll indict me because the word is out to 'get Mickey Cohen.'"

Only the Woman Is Left Now from Sordid Triangle

HOUSTON, Tex., April 6—(AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., who killed his wife's seducer, chose death to a prison cell.

His 70-year sentence confirmed by the Iowa supreme court and, his freedom of $40,000 bill near an end, the handsome 30-year-old children's doctor wrote a last love letter to his beautiful wife. Then he executed a carefully planned suicide.

The weapon was carbon monoxide and time indefinite. But the setting was the couple's favorite spot in the countryside.

"Love is fleeting," he wrote the blonde, statuesque Sydney. "Forget about this... time will cure a lot of grief."

Rutledge's body was found in his automobile late yesterday. There was proof it had been there all day, probably all Wednesday night.

His suicide was the last act in a case that included murder—of Byron Hattman—and one of the most torrid and sensational trials in the history of American law.

Bizarre Story Unfolded

The lives and loves of Rutledge, his wife, and Hattman were unfolded in a Cedar Rapids, Ia., courtroom in 1949.

County Must Send 10 Men in Draft

Fayette County has been called on by the Ohio Selective Service headquarters to furnish 10 men in the May draft, according to an Associated Press dispatch received Friday.

The total number of inductions for the State of Ohio will be 3,840 next month.

Registrants selected for this call must have been born prior to March 1, 1931 unless they are volunteers.

The last induction call for April originally was for 5,680 men—a figure later reduced by national headquarters to 2,640.

Col. Chester W. Goble, Ohio Selective Service director, said the May call had been allocated on the basis of a survey of the number of men forwarded for induction during September, October, November and December, 1950, as against the numbers called for those months.

The shortages which occurred are being made up by this adjusted call, he said.

The following is the induction call by counties in this area: Pickaway, 13; Highland, 9; Madison, 23, and Clinton, 25.

Teen-agers Find That Adult Drivers Here 'Not So Hot'

How do adult drivers in Washington C. H. behave when they're behind the wheel?

Ask teen-agers from the High School, and they'll say: "not so hot."

They know too. For 40 minutes two teams of youths enrolled in the driver training course at WHS kept an eagle eye on drivers at downtown intersections Thursday afternoon.

And what did they find? There were more than 500 traffic violations, including many by pedestrians, noted within the 40-minute period.

The youths were stationed at the corner of Court and Fayette Streets and at the corner of Main and Market streets from 1 to 1:40 P. M. Thursday.

They found that failure to use hand signals was by far the most often committed offense, with 90 persons failing to use signals on turning at Court and Fayette streets and 92 at Main and Market streets.

Second highest number of offenders were those who drove over pedestrian crosswalks before stopping. Fifty-one offenders were checked on Main and Market and 24 on Court and Fayette.

A total of 58 pedestrians crossed on the red light on these two corners, while 52 persons were checked stepping off the curb before the light had changed at the Court and Fayette street corner.

Offenses Listed

Starting through while the amber light was on was the third highest offense committed by drivers, according to the students' report.

Other offenses checked by the students on the corner of Court and Fayette streets were: leaving parallel parking without giving hand signal, 2; turning from wrong lane, nine; driving in both lanes, 12; double parking, two; crossing center line illegally, two; driving too fast for conditions, one; stepping off curb too soon, 52; crossing on red light, 46, and jaywalking, 15.

On the corner of Main and Market streets the students checked the following: leaving parallel parking without giving hand signal, seven; turning from wrong lane, four; failing to yield right-of-way, three; double parking, three; driving too fast for conditions, three; no signal given from (Please turn to Page Two)

Floyd Tracey, Clinton Avenue, well known sign manufacturer and painter, still owns a groundhog.

A number of years ago Floyd had a groundhog which lived under his house and was quite a pet. After upsetting just about all groundhog traditions, the animal died.

The groundhog came out when he was not supposed to and slumbered when according to tradition he was supposed to be running about outside.

For sometime Floyd has owned a big groundhog, which seems to have adopted him, and which lives in a barn on Floyd's farm on the Harrison Road in Madison Township.

The groundhog is a huge fellow, and refuses to become a pet. Instead, if cornered, he is ready to fight with his long, sharp teeth and strong claws.

"He weighs about 25 pounds, and digs some awful holes about the barn; I've got to get rid of him," said Floyd. He added that while he wanted to get rid of the animal, he did not want to kill him. In other words, the big groundhog is a "white elephant" to Floyd.

Fresh Meat Ration Upped in England

LONDON, April 6—(AP)—Food Minister Maurice Webb announced today an increase in the fresh meat ration, which he said was made possible by increasing quantities of domestic supplies.

As of April 15, Britons will be able to get their entire tennepence (11 2/3 cents) meat ration in fresh meat. At present, each person is entitled to eight pence worth of fresh meat and two pence worth of corned beef.

Canned Food Ordered For Armed Services

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—The Agriculture Department soon will order processors to set aside a part of their production of canned fruits and vegetables for the armed services.

But the military requirement will not reduce civilian supplies unless production should turn up short this year, officials said in telling of the forthcoming order.

New Formula Confuses Ohio Draft

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—If a new formula worked out by the Selective Service System had been applied to the April call, Ohio would have had a 17 percent increase in her draft quota this month.

A Selective Service official gave that answer when asked how the new formula would affect Ohio when it is applied in June.

He said it would be nearly impossible to determine the June quota now, since additional National Guardsmen and reservists in the state may be ordered to active duty before the call goes out.

He explained that on a national scale the April call originally was for 80,000 men. Ohio's share was to have been 4,224 men. Under the new formula, the Ohio quota would have been 736 higher.

After the April call was issued, it was cut in half.

The May call—60,000—already has gone out.

The June call has not been issued.

The official said the new formula will be applied to the May call only if the army decides to revise it upward or downward.

The formula was worked out, he (Please turn to Page Twelve)

First 'Jobless Pay' Chiseling Case Here Brings $200 Fine

The first case of "chiseling" in drawing unemployment compensation in Fayette County has come to light.

The offender is Oscar Harold C. Schiltz, 33, Peabody Ave., who was fined $200 and costs in Justice P. S. Ludwick's court late Thursday.

The charge was filed by Earl Weaver, special investigator in the fraud department of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

The specific charge was fraudulent misrepresentation, Ward C. Miller, local BUC manager said.

Schiltz was charged with applying for unemployment compensation in July, 1950, and receiving $30 from the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation as an unemployed person.

Testimony showed that Schiltz had been working during the time and had earnings of $60 for the week in question.

He was employed by a Columbus construction company at the time, the testimony indicated.

Evidence disclosed that Schiltz had other earnings during the time he was receiving unemployment compensation when he reported to the bureau that he had none.

The court suspended part of the fine and ordered Schiltz to make restitution to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in the sum of $235, the total amount he had received illegally, it was stated.

Schiltz was placed on probation for one year, during which time he must make full payment of the funds drawn illegally, Justice Ludwick said.

'No Confidence' In MacArthur

LONDON, April 6—(AP)—A Labor member of Parliament offered today a motion of "no confidence" in Gen. MacArthur as United Nations commander in Korea.

The motion "deplores the continued refusal of General MacArthur to refrain from reckless and irresponsible participation in political controversies."

Some sections of the British press and public have expressed fears that MacArthur might bring on a full-scale war with China.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 6—(P)—Practically every high school senior graduating this spring will be able to go to college in the fall, if he wishes, and be draft-proof at least until the end of his freshman term in 1952.

There may be a few exceptions to this, but they'll be few.

Those two statements come from Selective Service Headquarters. An explanation will be given in a moment. But first here is what the draft bosses also said about draft deferments for college students:

1. Anyone finishing his freshman term in college this spring—provided he's among the upper half of the male members of his class—can go back to college in the fall for his sophomore year without fear of being drafted for the next full college year.

But suppose a freshman finished below the upper half of this class this spring but wants to return to his sophomore year in the fall. How can he avoid being drafted?

By taking a test provided by Selective Service—on May 26, June 16 or June 30—in one of 1,200 locations. If he makes 70 or more, he can return to college, draft-proof for another year.

2. This year's sophomore can go back to college as a junior in the fall, draft-proof for another year, if he's in the upper two-thirds of his class or gets 70 or more in the test.

3. Same for a youth finishing senior year this spring—if he wants to go into graduate school in the fall—provided he's in the upper half of his senior class or makes 75 (not 70) in the test.

There is no test for those now in the graduate or professional schools. They can continue to be draft-proof in one way only:

If their school officials notify their draft boards that their work is satisfactory.

Now for the Selective Service explanation—and all that follows here is from Selective Service Headquarters—about the high school graduates who'll be draft-proof if they want to go to college in the fall:

Under present law youths 19 through 25 can be drafted, unless they get a postponement because they're in school or for some other reason.

But no board can take a man between 19 and 20 before taking those 20 or over. The boards so far have had to take very few youths under 20.

That leaves a big pool of those between 19 and 20 still untapped. But Congress shortly will pass a new draft law, probably lowering the draft age to 18 to 18½. At first glance that might seem to indicate a lot of youths 18 or older would be then taken.

No. The rule still holds: Boards must take older men before taking younger ones. Since there's still a big pool between 19 and 20. Drafting of those 18 to 18½ is still a long way off.

Further, if draft calls remain at their present number, about 80,000 men a month, the draft boards generally will still be taking men mostly 20 to 21 by next fall without still having made much of a dent in the 19-year-old group.

Most high school graduates are under 19. So it will be many months, after they get out of high school in June, before the boards will start looking at most of the new high school graduates. They'd have to take those 19 or over first.

Once they're in college, starting as freshmen, they can't be drafted until next spring at the end of their freshman year, and then only if they are not in the upper half of their class or fail to make a grade of 70 in the aptitude test.

A couple of questions arise here:

1. If all these youths are going to

Prize Comedy Hit Coming To WHS Soon

Miss Sara Keck, director of the WHS dramatics, announces that the senior class play will be "Harvey," the famous comedy hit that captured the imagination of Broadway theatregoers for over college and thus become undraftable, who'll be left for the draft? The National Education Association says only 45 percent of high schools graduates go on to college.

2. Suppose a high school graduate this spring is 19 or close to 20 and his particular board has exhausted its supply of older men and wants to draft him. Can he take the aptitude test, make 70, and go on to college, draft-proof?

four years and a Pulitzer Prize as well.

This play is about an imaginary rabbit, six feet one and a half inches tall, whose constant companionship has created more laughter than any play of modern times.

It will open at the Washington C. H. High school auditorium on April 20 for one night.

The unseen rabbit hero of this comedy wasn't born; he was discovered. Elwood P. Dowd, his discoverer, is a calm lovable bachelor, given to making friends. Elwood has traded the reality of the world, which irked him, for the illusion of a rabbit; and he has no regrets.

For his widowed sister and her eligible daughter, however, Elwood's companion has its distinct social embarrassments. Driven once too often, sister decides it is time to enroll Elwood in a sanitarium.

But sister, who isn't so unlike Elwood that she hasn't had glimpses of Harvey the Hare herself, winds up being confined in place of her brother. From then on, madness really takes over.

Decidedly the most popular laugh hit of the post-war theater, "Harvey" has delighted audiences all over the world, in addition to chalking up a record 1775 performances on Broadway. "Harvey" was the winner of the Pulitzer Prize for the best native drama produced during the year. The $1,000,000 paid by Universal-International was the highest price ever paid for the film rights to a play.

The actor who will play the role of Harvey's companion, Elwood P. Dowd, a part played at various times by Frank Fay, James Stewart, Joe E. Brown, Rudy Vallee and James Dunn, will be announced shortly by WHS drama students.

YBM Deserves Credit and Help in Its Effort

People of Washington C. H. are glad to note that the YBM, young business men's group of this city, is proposing to vigorously push a "Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up" campaign here.

This organization which has shown a tendency on many occasions to do some enterprising thinking in promoting a program of activity, deserves credit for this move. It is certain to impress people as a worthwhile project. The organization will deserve even more credit if it really gets behind such a movement and promotes it with an energy which will bring about real results.

There is no one thing which seems to be more contagious in a community than a sincere cooperative effort for improvement of the appearance of homes, yards, lawns and streets. When a city catches the spirit of such a movement, it grows and spreads. It includes a clean-up of alleys as well as streets. It means inspection by volunteer committees and friendly suggestions to those who might not otherwise respond.

Such efforts require leadership for real success. The YBM seems to be ready to offer that leadership. It will need and deserve the cooperation of city officials, county officials, clubs and other organizations. This help should be given willingly and enthusiastically. The young men who are starting this movement should be encouraged to the fullest degree.

We do not know of anything that will help a community more than a general clean-up at this time of the year. Usually more improvement in appearance of properties follows such a plan than ordinarily would take place if there is lack of inspiration and leadership to bring such things about.

A clean-up, paint-up and fix-up campaign is what we need. The whole city will benefit from it, whether it is a one-week or two-week promotion. Such improvement, once started, usually does not stop in that short a period. If one house or one yard in a neighborhood makes the effort, most often others will follow.

Let's all push this idea to the best of our ability. Let's show the YBM that their progressive thinking is appreciated.

Politicians Worried

Senator Kefauver's committee on Interstate Crime has done a remarkable job of publicizing the enormous ramifications of the gambling fraternity throughout the country. Understandably, since almost all of the nation's major cities—the hotbeds of gambling—are controlled by Democratic local administrations, the boys who run the party are alarmed. Republicans inevitably take renewed courage in areas where the opposition has ruled with a high and mighty hand for too long.

Whatever may be the Democratic Party's viewpoint on these questions, the nation has a definite and contrary interest. We want to know how closely identified rackets and politics have become in our cities and counties. We want to get this information so that we may take steps to prevent organized crime from dominating the scene and corrupting the moral standards of local communities. This is a fundamental question. The Senate committee has just begun to tap the keg. It should not be allowed to stop pouring the juice until the keg runs dry.

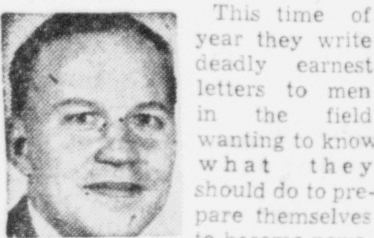

Judging by recent developments in Washington, the still small voice of conscience in that city is still small.

A Report about News Reporters

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK —(P)— Do you want to write for the newspapers? Would you like to be a war reporter for a foreign correspondent?

Maybe you wouldn't. But a big percentage of young Americans now growing up seem to want to be. For them newspapering still holds a lure above that of other professions that appear more humdrum.

This time of year they write their earnest letters to men in the field wanting to know what they should do to prepare themselves to become newspapermen.

Recently I have had several such letters from high school and college students. And the other day a fellow who works the typewriter next to mine said: "my eleven-year-old daughter just announced she is going to become a newspaperwoman, and wants to know what I think of the idea? Why don't you write a piece about the business?"

Well, future fellow citizens, here goes:

Newspapermen don't fit in any standard type of pigeonhole. They come in all sizes, shapes and temperaments. Some are full of the milk of human kindness, and some are so mean they wouldn't get up to give their old mother a seat on the subway.

But, by and large, the best of them live up to an unwritten code. The goal of that code is to find out what is going on in the world, and to write down what they find out. Their newspaper then prints it.

That sounds like a very simple task—merely to find out information and put it on paper. Actually it can be, and often is, an excruciatingly complex and painful job. It is easy to get most people to tell you what they want you to know. The art of reporting is to get people to tell you what you yourself want to know—the truth of a situation. And often that isn't easy.

One of the most difficult things for an idealistic young man or woman reporter to realize is that nice-looking people not only can lie boldly—they can lie with a disarming smile. And they will sometimes lie when it isn't even necessary.

As reporters grow more experienced they are rarely fooled by these people, no matter how high or low their position. The occupational hazard of older reporters is cynicism, a kind of life-weariness marked by a growing suspicion of all people. Detectives, wives and politicians are subject to this same disease. They see so much shoddy in life they come to doubt the existence of anything that is real and fair and true. And this disbelief can wreck an older reporter just as sure as laziness will destroy a younger one.

It doesn't take any one type of background to be a newspaperman. I've known good reporters—writers—who started out as professional boxers or motorcycle cops. A college education, however, gives a big advantage, particularly if you take courses in the basic fields of human knowledge—history, government, language, social science, physical science. You ought to know a little something about people, birds, trees, Communism, flowers, the atom bomb, and the electoral college. And some one subject you should know well -- you might want to specialize in (it later).

Reporting is rarely exciting physically after the first few years. After you cover ten fires, the fire bell doesn't have the same appeal. But reporting should remain mentally exciting all your life, as you go on to reporting things more important to the human way of life than fires.

The rewards? They range all the way from what a bank clerk makes to income of a bank president. If you really yearn to own a yacht, however, it might be wise to try some other occupation. But the highest reward of a real newspaperman is to have another newspaperman he respects say, "I liked your story. It had it."

You can't deposit such compliments in the bank. But if a man gets enough of them he can grow old gracefully in the newspaper business.

The Unfinished Larry Parks Story

By George Sokolsky

A congressional committee which sets out to investigate a witness should complete its job or announce to the public that it has not completed the investigation. Otherwise, it betrays its trust and it places the witness in a false light. It does not take full advantage of his appearance before it and at the same time it gives to the public the impression that his answers were inadequate.

The House committee on un-American activities, which under the chairmanship of Martin Dies and J. Parnell Thomas served this country well, in spite of all left-wing criticisms, has proved itself to be inadequate during the past two years, under the chairmanship of John S. Wood.

Take, for instance, the investigation of Larry Parks. He appeared before the committee in executive session and answered all the questions that were asked him. As far as it went, his testimony was adequate. He confessed to his own Communist participation; he named names where asked to do so. This is tough doing, when one works in an industry which is overanxious to protect the property value of advertised names, no matter what the owners of those names have done to damage their country.

Just as Park's testimony was becoming important, a bell rang calling the members of the House of Representatives to a roll-call. Such a routine does not take long and the committee could have and should have resumed its hearing.

Instead, Parks was excused and the committee never called him back to an executive session. Thus, his testimony was never completed. He was never given an opportunity to explain positions which he and his colleagues took subsequent to 1945 when our alliance with Soviet Russia terminated.

The injustice is as great to him as it is to the people of the United States. Those who have read reports of the public session of the committee, at which Parks appeared, are naturally of the opinion that all he tried to do was to square himself by a pathetic recital of his background. What they do not know is that the House committee on un-American activities failed to get the most information out of a witness and that when they had a friendly witness before them who was willing to testify, they shut him off because a bell rang.

This committee is coasting along on the great work done by Martin Dies, Robert Stripling, J. B. Matthews, J. Parnell Thomas, and Richard Nixon. It is not doing a comparable service. It is a lazy, inadequate committee that submits to pressures by the department of justice, which is apparently seeking to prevent a second Alger Hiss case from developing.

A committee of Congress should be absolutely independent of the executive branch of government. It is not expected to recognize the political necessities or to respect the chicaneries of those in office. The story goes that this committee confers with Deputy Attorney General Peyton Ford, or as another account has it, Ford's task is to see that no new Alger Hiss case breaks. The department of justice is designed to be a law enforcement, not a political, agency.

Precisely what happened to the Tydings committee is that it submitted to executive pressure. That is why I have said that the McCarthy charges stand. The Tydings committee did not investigate them. When its counsel, Edward Morgan, came to my house, he told me the story as it never was permitted to be told to his committee. And there was little difference between the story he told me and that which Senator Joe McCarthy was shouting from the house tops. Someone reached that committee to kill the evidence.

I am not convinced that the inadequate functioning of the House committee on un-American activities is altogether fortuitous. Something queer goes on when a witness like Larry Parks is shut off by a bell when he provides evidence which the committee badly needs to make its case. It looks as though someone were waiting for that bell to ring -- and that someone was not Larry Parks.

This column has been supporting this committee since it was organized. But if it plays such tricks as I have described, it must be shown up for what it is. A committee which does not do its work properly should not exist.

Diet and Health Removal of Warts Always a Question

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Though warts usually cause no symptoms worthy of treatment, they can be both disfiguring or disabling, depending upon where they occur. While they appear only as blemishes on the face and hands, they are definitely painful when they occur on the soles of the feet. For one or the other of these two reasons, people so affected have a common desire to get rid of them.

Warts are small overgrowths of the skin tissues. They vary in size, color, and shape. They are slightly more common in women. It would seem that warts can be passed from one person to another by direct contact. Often they disappear without treatment of any kind.

Common Type

The most common type of wart is known as the verruca vulgaris. These warts are raised, hard, gray or yellowish swellings, varying in size from 1/10 to 1/2 inch. At first the surface is flat and smooth, but becomes scaly or crusted. These warts occur most often in children and adolescents, and are found particularly on the hands and fingers, but any part of the skin surface may be affected.

In getting rid of these warts, local destruction is suggested as one of the good forms of treatment used by many doctors. This may be accomplished by using the electric needle. A local anesthetic to relieve pain may have to be injected around the wart when treatment is carried out.

If the wart is large, actual cautery or heat from a hot iron may be employed to burn the surface. This surface is then removed by scraping, and further burning is carried out until all of the wart has been removed.

Tend To Recur

Warts in the bearded area of the face tend to recur and spread rapidly because they are frequently injured in the process of shaving. They are also removed by electric needle and cautery. It is suggested that an ointment of aureomycin be applied to the face after shaving and before retreating. This helps to relieve the number of recurrences and speeds the healing.

Warts around the nails are difficult to remove permanently. It is suggested that they may be treated by cutting away the overlying nail and then using a form of acetic acid, followed by a salicylic acid preparation. This is kept on for a week, the dead tissue is cut away, and an antiseptic ointment put on. If during the time the salicylic acid is on the wart, it becomes extremely painful, the ointment may have to be removed. A single treatment usually brings about a cure.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. G.: My grandson, age 5, swallowed a button and it is still in his stomach after a week. What would you suggest?

Answer: X-rays should be taken from time to time to determine whether or not the button has passed into the intestine. Once it is in the intestine, it should pass into the bowel and out of the body. Even if it should become fixed in one position for a period of several weeks, operative removal is seldom required.

Korea Veterans To Come Home

WASHINGTON, April 6—(P)—

The army will begin about the middle of this month to bring back from Korea men who have been long engaged in the fighting there. They will be replaced by fresh troops.

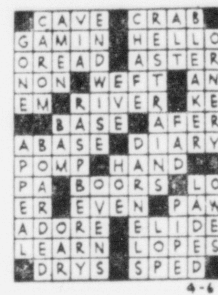

Secretary of the Army Pace announced the "rotation" plans today. He said Gen. Douglas MacArthur will decide policy on selection of men to be sent home. The first battle veterans should sail from Korea within a few weeks, Pace said.

In a statement, Pace emphasized the rate of rotation will depend upon both the flow of replacements to the war theater and upon the necessity to maintain the combat effectiveness of all units now in Korea.

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH

It is not uncommon to hear modern sophisticates laugh at the idea of sin, and say that it is an "invention of the priests." The comment, however, is more clever than it is intelligent. The truly scientific mind accepts very frankly the idea of sin, and undertakes to provide salvation, for sin is something very real in the life of every person.

An Ancient Explanation

In today's Sunday School lesson we have an ancient explanation of the fact of sin written down by one who had given careful thought to the subject, and who had seen great light.

The Sunday School lesson for April 8: "The Beginnings of Sin." Genesis 3:1-5; 6:5-9:17.

There are those who accept the story of Genesis as actual history. There are others who prefer to think of it as the effort of an ancient thinker to put a profound truth into story form so that the untrained minds for whom he was writing might be able to understand.

It makes little difference which of these two approaches we follow, providing we arrive at the basic truth. Sin is something that destroys the human soul.

The Psychologists See It

The psychologists have wrestled very frankly with the problem of sin and, in general have come out at about the same position occupied by the theologians. They have used a different terminology, and have talked in a scientific vocabulary, but their thinking is very much the same.

They have much to say about the necessity of removing the "sense of guilt." This is exactly what the preachers have talked about for hundreds of years.

They have discoursed learnedly on the subject of complexes and inhibitions, and the preachers have talked about hatreds, lusts, and "the desires of the flesh." There really isn't much difference between the two ideas.

The psychologists have described frustrations and fears and the preached has urged his hearers to "have faith." It is all very closely related.

Sin, to a psychologist, is a disruption of the normal functioning of the human mind. To the theologian it is a defiance of the laws of God which results in a disintegration of the human spirit.

The Techniques May Vary

The old time revivalist exhorted his hearers to come down to the altar, make a clean and complete confession to Almighty God and accept pardon.

The modern psychiatrist tries to persuade his patient to "drain his mind." He points out to him the effect of wrong thinking of early mental mistakes, and their resulting fears. He tries to bring the festering mass of false ideas up to the surface where they can be looked at and dismissed. At times he sounds almost like an evangelist, except that he points to no sawdust trail, and uses a strange vocabulary.

The Beginnings of Sin

The scripture in this week's Sunday school lesson makes it very plain that the sinning began in the thinking. This same doctrine is taught repeatedly in the scripture. Jesus' own teachings on this subject are perfectly plain. The psychologists agree with him when he says that the acting begins with the thinking. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." "Keep the heart with all diligence, for out of it cometh the issues of life." "He that lusteth after a woman has committed adultery with her in his heart already."

It is all in agreement with the scientist who says, "Watch your thinking, because you are what you think."

WHS Officials Visit Schools Near Here

School officials at Washington C. H. High School are visiting nearby schools which will send students to WHS next year explaining the set-up here. They are telling eighth grade pupils at such schools as Wilson and Eber they should start planning now for their courses at WHS in the fall. Principal Arthur Wohlers said an advance registration will be held for students at WHS during the last week of April.

'Career Day' Scheduled at WHS April 24

Announcement was made today by Principal Arthur Wohlers that "Career Day" will be held at Washington C. H. High School April 24.

Dr. Samuel Marble, president of Wilmington College, will give the principal address at 1:15 P. M. April 24 in the high school auditorium.

Youths in the seventh through the 12th grades will take part in "Career Day."

They will hear representatives of various vocations describing the advantages and disadvantages of their positions.

Gls in Germany In for No Picnic

But Overseas Duty
Can Be Education

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
FRANKFURT, April 6—(AP)—
This is a GI view of Germany 1951
--for the GI already here and the additional troops expected from the U. S. as part of the west Europe's muscle-building.

The new arrival's won't be coming in as conquerors. That's old stuff. The Germans won't treat them any better or any worse than anyone else. They are used to American soldiers and they try to get along with them.

If anybody has painted a picture that the key to bliss is a ci-colate bar or a package of cigarettes forget it. The most you get for a smoke nowadays is a request for a light.

Service in Germany can be an educating experience, but don't get the idea it's a breeze. There is plenty of duty to be pulled,
both on the post and in the field.
Troops over here spend about a third of their time in the field-- usually under combat conditions.
There's enough hiking to tire a tough mailman.

On the other hand, there are plenty of fine opportunities. The army runs classes in everything from languages to photography.

If it's more travel, that can be arranged, too. There are lowcost furlough tours to nearby countries, including Scandinavia, Switzerland, France, the low countries and Italy.

Plenty to See, Too

There's plenty to be seen in Germany, too. The Bavarian Alps in winter are a skiing heaven, and the rolling countryside in spring is a pleasure. There's time to go boating, fish, hunt, swim and just sight see.

Germany 1951 is not Germany 1945. The people pretty much run their own country now, and they are anxious to show its good points which are many. It has a temperate climate.

Berchtesgaden, where Hitler used to brood, is now an army recreation center. You can go in for a pot of hot coffee, where the Fuehrer used to twitch his mous-

Travel in Germany is not difficult. Many soldiers have bought jalopies cheaply, and army gas coupons cost little compared to state-side prices. However, a soldier buying a car must have his
C. O.'s permission.

There are snack bars on every post and along the autobahns, the big superhighways that Hitler built. They serve food on a par with a good American hamburger stand with price fixed to a soldier's pay.

There are movies to be seen, both American and German. For music lovers, the big cities have revived their operas and symphony orchestras in a tradition always high.

Best Behavior Expected

Soldiers over here are expected to be on their best behavior.
After all, they are representing the world's greatest democracy abroad. They get along well with French and British troops.

The M. P.'s aren't any tougher than they are back home, but they pay strict attention to the way a soldier dresses and handles himself. Being an American soldier in a foreign country is something special, and they try to keep it that way.

Big city streetcars are free to soldiers. If they want to travel in style, there are plenty of taxis.

Train travel is cheap, too. Military tickets are issued at special rates and you can go as far from here as Basle, Switzerland for a bout five dollars. That's a five-hour ride on a Diesel train.

Billetts are good and so is the chow. The army imports most of its foodstuffs from America, Italy, France and other west European countries. German restaurants serve big steaks and French fries.

All in all, it's a good assignment.
Plenty of work, but time for recreation, too.

You can see for yourself when

practice of painting a red dot on

Senior Class at Bloomingburg Planning Post-graduation Trip

Seniors of Bloomingburg High School today were approaching the last of their class fund-raising enterprises with enthusiasm and anticipation.

Ever since the class entered the eighth grade, it has had its sights set on a trip to the nation's capital and the country's biggest city after graduation.

And to that end, the seniors of 1951 have sold Christmas cards and stationery, put on entertainments, held food sales, sponsored dances and the like.

Now only two big projects are left -- another dance Saturday night and the traditional senior class play the night of May 10.

Arrangements for the dance, which is to be what is commonly termed a 50-50 dance, are all completed. It is to be held in the high school cafeteria and is open to the public.

While the students are expected to be well represented among the dancers, as they have been in the past, the adults are counted on to increase the revenue.

Class Play May 10

Although the class play is still more than a month away, the comedy-drama to be presented has been selected and the cast named.

There are 15 in the class and two-thirds of them will be on the stage in the role of performers the night of May 10. Five of the cast are girls and five are boys.

"Little Miss Somebody" was chosen for this year's entertainment. It is the story of a little girl who goes to live with her aunt and uncle. She eventually is pushed back into servant status in the household while her snooty little cousin claims the attention.

The turning point comes when a new boy moves into the neighborhood. The love and jealousy enter the drama. The new boy and the niece fall in love, much to the consternation of the aunt and uncle and their daughter.

All the while, the gardener watches over the little "Miss Nobody" from among his flowers and vegetables.

As the story unfolds, the gardener turns out to be her father and she becomes "Little Miss Somebody."

The romance, too, turns out just as the audience would want and life is happy forever after.

Elizabeth Iden is "Little Miss Somebody" in the cast; Gerald Butcher is the gardener; Robert Morris and Helen Penwell are the uncle and Helen Penwell is the neighborly lover; Barbara McDonald is the rejected daughter; Joe Barton is her brother; Merle Lawson is a rival suitor and Mary Lou Burr is the cook who provides the comedy relief.

Practice for the play is now in its first stages under the direction of Mrs. Elton B. Elliott of the faculty.

Proceeds for Trip

Proceeds from the play, Mrs. Elliott said, will come in handy for bolstering the fund for the trip to Washington, D. C., New York and Atlantic City. She explained that the class treasury was sadly depleted last year when the class gave the traditional banquet for the seniors of 1950.

Whether there will be enough in the account to pay all the expenses is doubtful, but Mrs. Elliott said it would "go a long way" and be a big help.

The trip is figured at $50 per pupil for transportation and hotel accommodations, but that does not include meals. They plan to

Gas Shortage Is Considered

COLUMBUS, April 6—(AP)—

Two major Ohio fuel gas companies disagreed today whether the state utilities commission should freeze the use of heating gas.

Ohio Fuel Gas Co., which operates in 54 Ohio counties, asked for a full ban on installation of either new or conversion gas equipment.

East Ohio Gas Co. recommended that the present "1-4-1" rule be continued. This rule allows installation of one new furnace for every old heating plant converted to gas.

Scores of attorneys and representatives of gas equipment companies, cities, and villages jammed the commission's hearing room today as the testimony on Ohio's fuel gas supply opened.

Overloaded Trucks Picked Up in Ohio

COLUMBUS, April 6—(AP)—The state highway patrol today reported 1,684 arrests for truck overloads during March.

The patrol said the figure was higher than usual because of violations of "frost laws." These laws, in effect during the winter specify load reductions of 25 percent on certain roads.

There were 25,973 trucks weighed on U. S. Route 40 the patrol reported, and 610 arrests. Fines during March ranged from $25 to $1,150.

Big Housing Program Now before Congress

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—Its lengthy "great debate" over the issue of sending ground troops to Europe out of the way, the Senate turned today to a $1,500,000,000 defense housing bill.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate banking committee foresaw passage with "no great difficulty." He commented to a reporter the committee already had trimmed the bill in half, so far as money goes, and "added many safeguards to all parts of the program."

The House last month refused even to consider the housing bill, which the administration supports. House leaders then decided to await Senate action.

Main feature of the Senate bill is expansion of the government system of mortgage insurance up on the housing projects. The administration asked for $3,000,000,000 in new insurance authority, but Maybank's committee cut the amount by 50 percent.

The private construction industry would be expected to build the bulk of the projects in areas certified by President Truman as "critical defense housing" areas.

Public Meeting TV Urged by CIO-UAW

CLEVELAND, April 6—(AP)—Government-sponsored televising and broadcasting of all public meetings ranging from congressional sessions to school board gatherings was urged today by the CIO United Auto Workers.

A resolution certain of passage at the UAW convention said this would make for better elected officials by subjecting them constantly to public scrutiny.

Framers of the resolution reasoned that the American public is entitled to see and hear more than the "nervous feet and hands of Frank Costello" and the "baby-faced repartee of Virginia Hill."

The resolution called upon Congress to "build, own and operate nationwide radio broadcast and television networks, possibly with provision for contracting with local radio and television stations," for the broadcasting and televising in full of all House and Senate sessions. It also recommended that the same treatment be given congressional committee sessions.

Baseball Season Is Drawing Near

Practices Called For Next Sunday

The third time's the charm... or at least so hopes Tommy Smalley, the headman of the Moose baseball team that represents Washington C. H. in the South-western Ohio League.

For the last two Sundays, he has called a tryout and practice for the squad at the diamond in Good Hope and twice the weather has interfered. First it was snow and cold, next it was rain and cold.

Given good weather, the Moose squad is to get its initial workout of the season next Sunday at Good Hope.

Smalley said with a note of concern that "we just can't wait much longer, for our first game is only three weeks away." The Moose are to meet the Merchants of Jeffersonville on April 29.

But, if Tommy would only stop and think, his team is no worse off than its opponent for the opener. The weather has been just as uncooperative at Jeffersonville.

SMALLEY SAID he had about 15 players lined up for the Moose team. And, he added, that while the league rules permit a 22-player squad, he does not think the Moose outfit will be brought up to that limit.

He explained: "I don't want too many on the squad. The boys like to play because they enjoy the sport and don't like to spend the afternoon sitting on the bench."

With that in mind, he admitted he was going after the best talent he could find.

The league has been cut from 10 to eight teams this year. Sabina and Midland City have been dropped. That leaves the Moose of Washington C. H., Mead of Chillicothe, Bowersville, Jeffersonville, Wilmington, Blanchester, Hillsboro and Greenfield.

Because of the smaller league, Smalley said, the schedule can be completed earlier—probably late in July. Then the top teams probably will meet in a double-elimination tournament to decide another champion.

Schoolboy Ring Champs Crowned After Three-PLY Tournament Here

Twelve boxing champions and five wrestling titlists today strutted proudly around among their fellow pupils after emerging victorious from the annual city schoolboy ring tournament finals in the WHS gym Thursday night.

The champions reigned all the way from the first grade up through high school. And, they had medals to show for their prowess with the gloves and at flip-flops of wrestling.

Coach Fred Pierson, under whose direction the tourney was staged, said Friday that "it looks like there would be a little less than $100 for the baseball fund" from the three-PLY event.

While the ring tourney was designed primarily as a part of the physical development program, with fun "thrown in" for a good measure, the proceeds were earmarked for helping meet the expenses of WHS baseball.

THE TOURNEY started last Monday night with eliminations for the little kids in the first six grades. That show was free. Wednesday night, the second series of eliminations was held and Thursday night the winners of the first two nights met for the titles.

For all three nights, the bleachers on the main floor of the gym were virtually filled. There was a liberal sprinkling of adults among the students.

The bouts may have been a little short on boxing and wrestling technique, but they were long on spirit. The crowd whooped and cheered like good partisans from start to finish.

For the boxing big soft 12-ounce gloves were used. The little fellows went three one-minute rounds; the older boys three two-minute rounds. Tut Jackson, a professional fighter of yesteryear, was the referee for the finals. The judges were John O'Connor, Clovis Graves and Harold (Babe) Maddux.

COACH RON GUINN was in charge of the wrestling part of the tourney. And, strange as it may seem, the influence of television failed to bring out nearly as many wrestlers as it did for boxing.

The wrestling matches were decided by the point system and not by falls, grunts, groans and grimaces.

Here are the champions and their vanquished opponents in the finals.

State Cage Tourney Site Shift Proposed

CINCINNATI, April 6—(AP)—Both the Cleveland Arena and the Cincinnati Garden could be used alternately for the Ohio State high school basketball tournaments under a suggestion by Garden General Manager Alec Sinclair.

Each building has a much greater seating capacity than the present tournament site, the 6,780-seat Coliseum at Columbus. The Arena has a total of 11,567 seats, not counting standing room, while the Garden—largest sports arena in Ohio—can seat 13,600 persons for basketball and accommodate 2,000 more as standees.

Sinclair suggested the tournament could be held at the Arena one year, at the Garden the next.

*As Reported in Popular Mechanics Magazine
An owner is the best judge of a motor car. And when questioned in a nationwide survey conducted by Popular Mechanics, Rambler owners gave their cars "rave" notices.
They exclaimed about Rambler maneuverability... spoke glowingly of the amazing economy of up to 30 miles a gallon for these owners. They liked the acceleration, style and comfort. And 97 per cent approved of exclusive Nash Airflyte Construction.
Why not spend a few minutes behind the wheel of a Rambler and learn for yourself why Rambler owners was so enthusiastic about the world's most modern car? Then you, too, will want to order this newest of America's new cars!

OBITUARY
Charles E. Campbell, age 50, of Galloway, Ohio, died at 1 A. M. Saturday, March 31, at St. Francis Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, after an illness of three weeks.

He was born July 31, 1906, the son of Claude C. and Laura E. Campbell. A native of Washington, C. H., he moved to Dayton about 1930 where he resided until 1945. In 1937 he was married to Hazel G. Bennett of Cedarville, Ohio.
While a resident of Dayton, he was employed by the National Cash Register Company. From Dayton he moved to Sabina where he owned and operated a garage and filling station. More recently and up to the time of his illness, he was employed as a radio technician in a Columbus radio repair shop.

Mr. Campbell was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Dayton,
Woodman of the World, and the Moose Lodge of Sabina.
Surviving are his wife, Hazel; two sons, Charles E. and Donald V., both of Dayton; his mother, Mrs. Laura E.
Campbell, of Greenfield, Ohio; five brothers, Forrest and Tasso of Columbus, Harry of Washington, C. H., Roy of South Bend, Indiana; Clifford of Dayton; and one grandchild.
Funeral services were held 2:30 P. M.
Monday, April 2, at the Lakeside General Funeral Home, 1401 S. Main Street, with the Rev. M. Shenfeldt, of the London Methodist Church officiating. Burial took place in Kirkwood Cemetery, near London.

Training Camp Baseball Briefs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 6—(AP)—The New York Yankees are whaling the ball in their exhibition games. Three players are hitting over .400 with two more over .300.

Hank Bauer leads the club with .439; rookie Mickey Mantle follows with .437 and Gene Woodling, who hit two homers against San Antonio last night, has .421. Cliff Mapes has .345 and Joe DiMaggio .327. The Yanks beat San Antonio, 13-10.

Strength for Dodgers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 6—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers may have a new pitching prospect in Earl Mossor, who twirled last year for the class B Portsmouth, Va., club.

Mossor hurled the first five innings yesterday for the Brooks against the Phillies. He yielded two runs in the first, but then pitched four hitless innings.

Feller To Pitch

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 6—(AP)—Bob Feller gets a chance today to show he is in shape to go the distance against a major league foe and win. Two other Cleveland Indian righthanders have done it in the Tribe's last two games.

Larry Jansen will be pitching today for the New York Giants whom the Tribe beat 6-5 yesterday in the first of an 11-game eastward bound barnstorming series. Early Wynn gave up all five Giant runs in the first frame, but blanked the New Yorkers after that. Mike Garcia was the first Tribe hurler to go full nine innings when he beat the New York Yankees in Tucson Tuesday 6-3.

Second baseman George Stirnweiss and shortstop Merrill Combs, acquired last Sunday from the St. Louis Browns, joined the Indians at Houston yesterday.

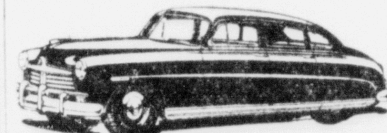

Reds Beat Senators

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 6—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds moved on to Jacksonville along with the Washington Senators for another exhibition today after their game at Gainesville yesterday.

Cincinnati drubbed the Senators 9-5 in the exhibition, clubbing three hurlers for 10 assorted hits while Hermie Wehmeier and Frank Smith were keeping Washington's bat at bay.

Included in the assortment was a two-run homer by Redleg Joe Adcock. Another Cincinnati batting star was fleet-footed Lloyd Merriman, who rapped out three singles to drive in as many runs.

The Medina mosque is regarded as Arabia's architectural gem according to the National Geographic Society.
